FOREWORD

We have tried to make this year book belong to and reflect not only the senior classes but the rest of the school as well. We have done
our best to make this annual dear to all of you for the memories it may convey in later years
when you turn back to it again.

THE classes of January and June, nineteen thirty, present the W, which records the activities of another year in the history of West High School . .

We who are leaving have seen them countless times—that pink tree on the campus all abloom in spring, the delicate carvings on the study hall desks, Demosthenes and Minerva in the assembly hall, and, oh, so many others. Sounds, too, have become as echoes within us—the familiar class gongs, the buzz in the assembly before Mr. Bennett enters, the clink-clink of Mrs. Wright's keys, and the orchestra pealing out our Alma Mater.

Call it sentiment if you will, but we would live it all again, curse the hours of homework, tremble under the stern voice of some austere elder—yes, we would live it all just to be singing “Bradford High School” in assembly again.

DEDICATION

To the Faculty, who have given us so much more of themselves than just English or math or science, and particularly to our Class Advisers, who have given us more still, we dedicate this book, hoping, in so small a way, to express our gratitude for the help they have given and the interest they have shown.

The Service Corps

Service Corps

The Service Corps, an honorary society in good citizenship, was instituted in West High about four years ago for the purpose, well, just what the name denotes, for service. Members patrol the halls, help the teachers, serve at the faculty banquet and partake actively in school affairs. Additions to the Corps are elected each year by the senior members. Miss Ethel Manchester and Mr. James Spinning are the advisers.

Captain, Robert Williams

Manager, Robert Nixon

The baseball team, composed of veterans with a few new men, came through the season with a fairly good record. We tied for second place. We hope that the school will support the team better this year than before. The team will do its best for WEST HIGH. Will you?

The team was composed of the following men: Joseph D'Andrea, Captain Robert Williams, Vincent Haack, Donald Russell, Roosevelt Milanetti, Carl Jones, Quintino Serenati, John Yates, Walter Drojarsky, and Robert Nixon, Manager.

Soccer

We are justly proud of our soccer team and its record for the past season. Our boys had little difficulty in overcoming the opposition, and during the season we lost but one game and tied the score in another. At the end of the season we soundly walloped John Marshall 4-0 in the championship game, and thus won the third consecutive championship and the silver trophy. We have won the trophy four times, and if we win it again next year it is ours. Six of our men were on the all scholastic team—a noteworthy achievement. The team consisted of the following: Black, captain, Nicholas, Serenati, Woodbridge, Monroe, A. Milanetti, R. Milanetti, Robertson, Mason, Aversano, Strozzi, Tuttle, Taylor, and Yates.

We are equally proud of the excellent managership of William Stanat, who made the past season the most successful in the history of soccer in West High.

Basketball

The basketball team put up a good fight and made a better showing than has been made in late years. The players put all they had into the game, but the student body failed to respond. As a consequence, this season went on record as the poorest in the history of the school as far as student support and financial conditions are considered. We hope that next year the school as a whole will come out and support the team.

The team was composed of the following men: Black, J. Kewin, Mason, Deutsch, R. Milanetti, Nichols, Serenati, captain, Brown, D'Annunzio, Robertson, and Paul Forth, manager.

Reserve Basketball 1929-30

The Reserve Basketball team had a better season than the first team. In a schedule of thirteen games, only three were dropped. The team played well and was a credit to the school.

The members of the team were: DePalma, captain, T. Kewin, Kron, A. Milanetti, Ditrinco, and Dunn. Tuttle, Whited, and Sabatini also saw service.

Cross Country 1929

Our crack cross country team came through again with a victorious season, living up to the reputation of an unbroken chain of victories for three years. All of the meets were decisive victories for West High. Our team beat the U. of R. freshmen very badly by placing the first nine men to cross the line.

This meritorious team consisted of the following: Jones, Stevens, Worden, DeStephano, Brooks, Caputo, and Mammiano.

THOUGHT AND ORIGINALITY MAKE

We of THE LEO HART Co. pride ourselves on the fact that the Year Books bearing our imprint are a LITTLE FINER, A LITTLE MORE OUT-OF-THE-ORDINARY, A LITTLE BETTER DONE than the average, and we strive to maintain that standard in ALL OF OUR WORK... The PERSONAL THOUGHT and CAREFUL STUDY given each INDIVIDUAL book, in addition to FINE TYPOGRAPHY, HIGH GRADE PRESSWORK and SKILLFUL HANDLING thruout, cannot help but show in the finished product... And the Editorial Staff which turns its book over to us has a right to expect an Annual that is DISTINCTIVELY DIFFERENT.
